INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

School of Carpentry.

Z. T. SPENCER, Manager.

A two-story shop contains an engine, one rip-saw, two scroll saws, three lathes, and draughting tables.

The young men learn the use of tools, how to draw plans, and to make specifications for buildings.

Eight frame houses have been built, and several more are in process of erection. Several of the students have already engaged work for the Summer, as they can make better wages and keep better health than in teaching.
CATALOGUE.

SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE.

W. F. WHEELER, MANAGER.

Four hundred and fifty acres of land give us plenty of room for this department. Capt. Wheeler is an experienced educator and successful farmer. Young men who desire a good English education and wish to make thorough farmers, will find every necessary advantage here.

SCHOOL OF PRINTING.

W. H. THAYER, MANAGER.

A good press and a full newspaper and job printing outfit, give students an opportunity to become first class printers. A weekly paper, The Elevator, gives practical experience that is very valuable. Besides our paper, we publish our own catalogues and do all the college printing, as well as outside job-work.

SCHOOL OF DOMESTIC ECONOMY.

FLORA MITCHELL, MANAGER.

A beautiful six-room cottage furnishes a "Model Home", where a class of six remain three months and learn the art of housekeeping. All the girls are taught various kinds of sewing, and an advanced class studies the most approved systems of dress-making and millinery.

SCHOOL OF IRON-WORK.

A neat shop is supplied with forge, anvils and all necessary tools. A thoroughly competent mechanic will take charge of this department in the Fall, and teach all branches of black-smithing, including fine wagon and carriage work.

—See Courses of Study.
BOOK-KEEPING.

A set of books adapted to a small retail business is first introduced and covers sufficient ground to illustrate fully single entry methods, and the proper use of the various books required.

The method of changing a set of books from single to double entry is taught the student and, after he thoroughly learns the theoretical part of double entry, he commences a simple form of books by this method and advances step by step through the more complicated forms as used in partnership, commission and bank-business.

ACTUAL BUSINESS.

After all this preliminary drill the student is placed in charge of a complete set of books which are kept in connection with our store. Here he deals in real merchandise and is thus required to record actual transactions, as the sales are of books, pens, pencils, etc. which the students of the University purchase for their own use. He makes out statements, bills of goods sold, receipts for money received, gives and receives notes, checks, drafts, etc. The notes are discounted and checks, drafts etc. are deposited in OUR BANK.

Which is a full working institution. We keep money on deposit at W. M. and R. J. Lowry's Bank in the city, which we use as our Foreign Correspondent. When desired, we cash checks and drafts sent to students, thus saving them time and trouble. All this work comes under the direct supervision of the Principal of the Department who is himself a practical accountant, having stood at the desk and behind the counter and there learned the lessons of mercantile life.

COMMERCIAL LAW

receives such attention as is necessary to give a clear understanding of the rights and privileges of the individual in his dealings with others in commercial life.

COMMERCIAL CALCULATIONS

receive a proper amount of attention including a review of decimal fractions, a thorough drill in the various subjects of Percentage, as Interest, Partial Payments, Discount.

BANKS AND BANKING.

The different kinds of banks as Banks of Deposit; Banks of Exchange; National Banks; and Savings Banks are considered.

TELEGRAPHIC DEPARTMENT.

We are enabled to give thorough instruction in this branch. Our instruments are the same as used on regular telegraphic lines and the two buildings (Chrisman and Gammon Halls) are connected with a wire over which the students send regular messages.

PHONOGRAPHY.

We also teach short-hand writing and in all probability shall soon add a type-writing machine, so as to fully prepare students for entering the stenographic profession.

TIME FOR ENTERING.

Students for the Business College Course are permitted to enter at any time and will receive individual instruction if necessary. We cannot state how long it will take to complete the course; this will depend upon the ability of the students.

DIPLOMAS.

Are granted upon completion of the Course. Certificates of proficiency are given to those who are obliged to leave before completing the course.
This Department of Instruction has been organized for those who wish to acquire a thorough knowledge of music, and it is under the care of a teacher whose exclusive attention is devoted to it. The aim is to teach pupils how to study music and the course of instruction has been arranged with a view to enable the student to become a competent teacher and an intelligent performer.

PIANO COURSE.

FIRST YEAR.

SECOND YEAR.
Selections from the works of suitable masters.

THIRD YEAR.
Selections from Mendelssohn's Songs Without Words.

FOURTH YEAR.
Studies Introductory to the Art of Phrasing, Op. 45, Heller
Selections from Czerney's Grand Scale Exercises and from Cramer's Studies.
Three of Beethoven's easier Sonatas.

ORGAN COURSE.
As the best preparation for the study of the organ, the students should devote the first two years to practicing upon the piano. The third and fourth years will be given to organ practice. Only standard text-books will be used.

Careful instruction will be given in Harmony and Voice Culture. Public Recitals and Normal Training will be special features.

Sight singing classes and classes for beginners will be formed each term.

ADMISSION.

All candidates for admission to the School of Theology must bring satisfactory testimonials from the official Board or Quarterly Conference of their church, as to their personal religious character and fitness for the ministry. If already ministers they may produce their credentials. Ministers and students of all evangelical denominations are welcome to the full privileges of the Institution.
Candidates must show proficiency in the English branches. Those not thus prepared are advised to enter the classes of the Collegiate Department. As the sessions of the Theological School are held in the afternoon, they thus secure the advantages of both departments of the University.

SPECIAL FACILITIES.

GAMMON HALL.—The Theological Hall is an elegant building erected at a cost of $25,000, and dedicated, _Christo et Ecclesiæ_, last December. It is built of brick, with stone trimmings, and is one hundred and ten, by fifty-two feet, and four stories high. The students' rooms are large and well ventilated, and each floor is provided with baths, etc.

THE LIBRARY—Students have free access to the theological library of over 1400 volumes, consisting of works in all the departments of theology and related branches of study. It is arranged in various alcoves and classified for convenient reference. Special instruction is given in the connection with class work.

Through our generous patron, Mr. Gammon, and the gifts of numerous friends, we have secured many of the best modern works.

LECTURES.—Occasional lectures on the practical work of the ministry, are given by prominent and successful ministers. Among the lecturers of the past year were Bishop Warren, Bishop Turner, Dr. Fisher, and Dr. Thayer, of Boston.

FREE TUITION, AID, ETC.

The Institution grants free tuition as well as free rooms to students in the school of Theology. The rooms are comfortably furnished, and board and fuel are given for two dollars per week.

Married students are allowed rooms for themselves, but not for their families. Rooms for families can be rented in the vicinity at various prices. Several neat cottages are also being erected on the grounds for their accommodation.

Aid from loans, without interest, and gifts of friends, is given to deserving students. The Board of Education is doing a generous work for needy candidates for the ministry.

For further particulars see General Information.
In addition to the foregoing we call attention to:

The Reading Room—which is supplied with several of the best magazines and a variety of church and secular periodicals.

The Theological Literary and Debating Club—affords a fine opportunity to the students of the school for practice in extempore speaking and literary culture, in connection with their special studies.

Religious Privileges—Regular services are held in the University church, and the Sunday schools and social meetings of this and the city churches offer ample opportunity for Christian labor.

Self Support.—Several charges and missions of the Church, within easy reach of the University, give employment to students. The Industrial Departments also furnish opportunity for self-support.

Practical Instruction—in the drawing of plans for the construction of churches and parsonages is also offered to theological students.

AIM, METHODS, INSTRUCTION, ETC.

The aim of this school is to do practical work in helping men towards success in the ministry. Its course of study is broad and practical; its ideals are high; its work thorough; its methods fresh, systematic, clear and simple. It proposes to suit its course of study and its methods of instruction to the culture and capacity of the students who seek its advantages.

We study the Word of God. The Bible is our chief textbook. All of our studies encircle the Word. We aim to make its teachings plain, its doctrines luminous, and to furnish the best methods for its exegesis, explanation, and illustration to the people. We want to send forth men trained in the Scriptures; men who know their Bibles, and can explain its teachings plainly in the light of modern learning, and with the power of the best methods of interpretation;—in short—our aim is to send forth able ministers of the Word, who can give clearly defined views of its doctrines, and abundantly support them by a "Thus saith the Lord". To teach biblical, rather than a scientific theology; to unfold a Christ-centred theology, expressed in scriptural terms, rather than a dogmatic theology cast in scientific phrase, is the aim of this school.

We do not advise the study of the Scriptures in the original languages, unless previous culture and mental discipline have prepared the mind to undertake the task so thoroughly as to make it a source of power to the student. To such, instruction in Greek and Hebrew is open.

Much of the work is done through lectures, with thorough expositions and practical reviews. Special attention is given to essays and discussions by the class in connection with our Bible studies. The design of the school is to send out earnest, practical, evangelical preachers, who shall do intelligent and loyal service for Christ and the Church.

For further information address the Dean,

Rev. WILBUR P. THIRKIELD, B. D.
TERMS OF ADMISSION.

Applicants for admission must sign a pledge to abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors and tobacco in any form while members of the school.

Students from other schools must bring letters of honorable dismissal; and in order to enter advanced classes must show certificates of scholarship.

Students are requested to come on the first day of the term and save themselves and teachers much trouble.

All persons who neglect their studies, are not neat in their persons and habits, disobey rules frequently, or in any way exert an evil influence, will be dismissed.

Students are admitted to all the privileges of the school without regard to color, sect, or sex.

RECITATIONS.

We cannot start classes to suit the convenience of late comers. Classes in Latin, Greek and Higher Mathematics are generally started in Fall Term; or when the regular classes are ready for them. Students behind a class, even in one study, are ranked with the next lower class until the deficiency is made up.

MUSIC.

The school has two pianos and two organs, and an experienced teacher devotes her whole time to this department.

A liberal reduction to those who pay one term or one year in advance.

STUDENT AID.

Do not come expecting help, unless you make definite arrangements beforehand. We generally require students to pay for a month, at least, in advance, so that we can learn whether they are worthy of aid. It is thought best to cultivate a feeling of independence by requiring students to work for help allowed. In some cases we grant loans to advanced students.

A student of good moral character, diligence, and ability will always find some way to finish his education.

LOCATION.

Atlanta, being easily reached by railroads from every direction is especially adapted for the location of a school. Clark University is on a high, heavily-wooded ridge, where there is plenty of pure air and water. There are several fine mineral springs on the grounds. Over 460 acres afford ample room for healthful recreation. We are near enough the city for business purposes, and far enough away to render it easy to keep the students away from its temptations. The East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia Railroad will land students close to the College.

LIBRARY.

All students have the use of the University Library, and also of the valuable collection of religious and theological works in the library of the School of Theology.

The Reading Rooms are well supplied with secular and religious papers and magazines.

APPARATUS.

The fine apparatus, presented by Mrs. E. H. Gammon, adds great interest to the study of the Natural Sciences.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

There are four Literary Societies—two conducted by the gentlemen and two by the ladies, of the Collegiate Department, and one by the students of the School of Theology.

SUNDAY SCHOOL INSTITUTE.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES AND INFLUENCES.

Believing that all unsanctified education is an injury rather than a blessing, especial attention is given to Bible study and to religious training. Every Sabbath morning the school meets for the study of the International Bible Lessons, and the Chautauqua Normal Course. A preaching service is held in the afternoon, and prayer meetings at night and twice during the week. Parents may be sure that their children will be under the best influences:

NEEDS.

Books and apparatus.

A Fund for help of needy students.

An Endowment for the permanent support of the school.

Five Thousand Dollars for an Industrial Building.

A Building, costing about ten thousand dollars, for chapel and dining-room. Our present accommodations are inadequate.
MISCELLANEOUS.

To Parents.—Send your children on the first of term. Never on Sunday.
Give them warm clothing, towels, napkins and soap, but little extra money. Write to the President if you hear rumors that they are sick.
Send no boxes of food, without enclosing money for doctors’ bills.

Never send your children unless you intend to keep them here as long as you believe them to be treated well. Homesickness is frequent the first month, but easily cured.
Do not furnish your children with expensive clothing at any time, especially at Commencement.

To Students—Your entrance into the school is considered a promise to obey the rules and to be prompt and diligent.
Visits cannot be made or received on Sunday.
Students who do not live at home cannot board out of the Institution without special permission.
Students will be required to dress plainly. At commencement the young ladies will be required to wear dresses of cheap material, and made up as far as possible by their own hands, in the sewing classes.

Direct all letters and express packages to Clark University, Atlanta, Ga. Much trouble and delay will be saved by sending money direct to the President, who will send receipt.

We bear patiently with troublesome students, as long as we think there is hope of reform, but the following misdemeanors bring immediate suspension, viz: Keeping or using fire-arms, the use of tobacco, liquor, cards, or profanity; repeated disobedience of any rule.

Notice.—If you take a hack at the depot require the driver to promise to take you to Clark University, on Capitol Avenue. The University omnibus will be at the depot the first week of each term to meet the day trains.

Fall Term begins Oct. 1st, closes Dec. 23.
Winter Term begins Jan. 2nd, closes Mar. 25.
Commencement—Second Wednesday in June.
